

13982 - Does a Pap Smear Test Break Your Fast?

the question

Is it permissible to have a pap smear test whilst fasting? This involves the nurse taking a sample from the cervix at the neck of the womb.

Summary of answer

If a pap smear test involves taking a sample with no feelings of desire, then it does not break your fast.

Detailed answer

Praise be to Allah.

Shaykh ‘Abd Al-Karim Al-Khudayr said:

“If having a pap smear test and having a sample taken from the cervix results in the emission of maniyy (sexual discharge), then this breaks the woman’s fast because it involves desire. If it simply involves taking a sample with no feelings of desire, then it does not break her fast. But it is better to delay it until the time of iftar at night.”
